

PUBLIC LEDGER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1894.

ONE CENT.

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

The banner year for railroad building in this country was 1887. In that year 13,875 miles of new track were completed and put in operation.

The cost of the Union Pacific is given at $153,529,559.95. The present value of all its property of every description is given at $245,431,041.92.

ELEVEN members of a Denver jury

sworn in to try two Catholics were found to be members of the A. P. A. and the entire panel was discharged. Well, that was the right thing to do; but our Catholic friends think it's kind to have a Catholic jury to try an ex-Priest.

From the best information obtainable it is believed that the President will veto the Bland Seigniorage Bill. The veto will raise a big rumrum, and many Democratic members of the House and Senate who have been up to this time friendly to the Administration will, after the President's veto, give it the cold shoulder.

Here's Another.

Professor L. B. Leech, who has been Principal of the Public Schools at Catlettsburg for the last three years, was stabbed in three places by John Emerick, aged 18 years, one of the pupils. He received one cut on the left hand and two in the right arm. The trouble came up over a remprimand given Emerick. Professor Leech is from Lebanon. He says he will send in his resignation to the Board; that he does not feel that he could teach another term after what has happened. He should do this, a petition will be signed by the school asking him to remain.

A Kansas wife recently secured a divorce from her husband because, as solemnly set forth in her petition, "the defendant pinched the nose of the plaintiff, causing it to become red, thereby causing the plaintiff great pain and anguish of mind."

A Missouri divorce was once granted because "the defendant goes gadding about, leaving the plaintiff supperless, or if he gets any he has to cook it himself."

Out in Illinois a wife secured a decree because her husband threw the baby at her when she hit him with the coal bucket for spilling on the stove.

A Connecticut man got a divorce on the ground that "the defendant would not get up in the morning nor call the plaintiff, nor do any thing she was told."

A decree was granted in a Massachusetts court because "the defendant keeps the plaintiff awake most of the night quarreling."

A Wisconsin man got a divorce because his wife kept a servant girl "who spit on the frying pan to see if it was hot enough."

A Virginia woman was set free because "the defendant does not come home till 2 p. m., and then keeps the plaintiff awake talking."

In Illinois a decree was given to a wife because "the defendant never cut his toenails, and being restless in his sleep, scratches the plaintiff severely."

A youthful Kentucky husband secured a divorce on the ground that "the defendant came into the bedroom the morning after the marriage and beat the plaintiff over the head with her shoe heel."

A New York man pleaded in his petition that "the defendant would not sew on the plaintiff's buttonholes, and she would not let him go to sleep at night."

The court decided that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree on the ground that this oppression was cruel and inhuman.

QUEER CAUSES OF DIVORCE.

A Kansas wife recently secured a divorce from her husband because, as solemnly set forth in her petition, "the defendant pinched the nose of the plaintiff, causing it to become red, thereby causing the plaintiff great pain and anguish of mind."

A Missouri divorce was once granted because "the defendant goes gadding about, leaving the plaintiff supperless, or if he gets any he has to cook it himself."

"Well, you've just wasted a night here," says the man. "Did you see anything down stairs worth stealing?"

"And I said yes I had, did I something in that line occasionally."

"Miserable business to be in, ain't it?" said the man. His voice came from a bed over in the corner of the room, and I knew he hadn't even sat up.

"And I said: 'Well, I dunno. I got to support my family some way.'

"Well, you've just wasted a night here," says the man. "Did you see anything down stairs worth stealing?"

"And I said no I had."

"Well, there are less up stairs," says the man, and then I heard him turn over and settle down to go to sleep again. I'd like to have gone over there and kicked him, but I didn't. It was getting late and I thought all things considered, that I might just as well let him have his sleep out."

What is the "Seigniorage."
Now that the question of seigniorage is agitating the country, the following definition of the given in the Century Dictionary interest:

Seigniorage: Something claimed by the sovereign or by a superior as a prerogative; specifically, an ancient royalty or prerogative of the crown, whereby it claimed a percentage upon the produce of the land to be different or to be exchanged for coin; the difference between the cost of a mass of bullion and the face value of the pieces coined from it." The dictionary follows from John Stuart Mill:

"If Government, however, throws the expense of coining, as is reasonable, upon holders, by making a charge to cover the expense (which is done by giving back rather less in coin than is received in bullion, and is called 'levying a seigniorage'), the coin will rise to the extent of the seigniorage above the value of the bullion."

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

He Meets a Cool Man in Eastern Connecticut.

"I think about the most curious man I ever met," said the retired burglar, "I met in a house in Eastern Connecticut, and should like to tell you about it. If I told him again unless I should hear him speak, it was so dark where I met him that I never saw him at all. I had looked around the house down stairs, and actually hadn't seen a thing worth carrying off. It was the poorest house I ever was in, and it wasn't a bad looking house on the outside either. I got up stairs and groped around a little, and finally turned into a room that was darker than Egypt. I hadn't gone more than three steps in this room when I heard a man say:

"Hello, there."

"Hello," says I.

"Who you are?" says the man, "burglar?"

"And I said yes I did, so did something in that line occasionally."

"Miserable business to be in, ain't it?" said the man. His voice came from a bed over in the corner of the room, and I knew he hadn't even sat up.

"And I said: 'Well, I dunno. I got to support my family some way.'

THE MAGIC CITY.

THE LEDGER on Saturday began distributing to its patrons the finest series of World's Fair Views that have yet been issued. This is the testimony of all who have seen them:

Now, we will try to make plain the way to get them:

First—Cut out of THE LEDGER this coupon:

Public Ledger.

Magic City Art Portfolio Coupon.

Mail or bring to the office of THE LEDGER SIX COUPONS such as this, of different dates, and Ten Cents in postage, and mail to THE LEDGER, Box No. 6 of the World's Fair. The six coupons are different dates and Ten Cents are required for each Portfolio. There will be sixteen numbers.

March 27, 1894.

Second—When you have cut out SIX COUPONS of different dates,—if you live in the city and your paper is delivered by carrier,—bring them to this office WITH CENTS, and one book of the Views will be given to you. If you live at some other place, send the six coupons and ten cents by mail to this office and the book will be sent to you by mail from Philadelphia.

Third—if you have laid in six coupons, you can get the books at 15 cents each, and you can get the back numbers at any time. After the set is finished appropriate binding can be had at a small cost.

The set comprises sixteen books, and when completed it will form a most magnificent volume. There's no other way in which you can secure such an art treasure for only little money.

PLEASE REMEMBER.

When we say coupon, we mean the entire coupon with the border around it, and not a piece of it.

The date at the bottom of the coupon is changed every day, and you must send us six of different dates.

Under no circumstances will any exceptions be made to the above requirements.

GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGED.

Miss Dolly Rose of Manchester Thanks "The Ledger" Patrons.

MISS DOLLY ROSE, the unfortunate young lady of Manchester, to whom THE LEDGER recently sent several thousand cancelled postage stamps, kindly contributed by generous-hearted ladies and gentlemen, writes as follows in acknowledgment:

MANCHESTER, O., March 26th, 1894.
Editor Public Ledger: Since first receiving your kind notice of my having received a great many stamps from your state. I have been very busy with my stamps for the past two weeks. I assort each denomination separately, and now I can get them in one bunch. This is no little task, especially for one who cannot sit up to do the work. I lie flat on my back day and night, and four years. I was almost discouraged in my effort to secure so great a number of stamps until the time came to use my resources, but now I can get them in one bunch.

ANOTHER large crowd was out last night at the First Baptist Church attending the prayer service. These services should be attended by all Christian people, as they are for the good of our city. Mr. Maloney, the gentleman who will lead the singing and assist Mr. Fife, will arrive to day and be at the services tonight. On tomorrow night Mr. Fife will be here. A large number of extra seats have been provided, and the committee in charge now think there will be seating room for all. Everybody cordially invited, and especially the unconverted.

Mr. CLEVELAND cannot plead ignorance of the wishes of the business men and bankers of the Eastern States in regard to the Bland Seigniorage Bill. That measure is opposed by an overwhelming preponderance of the business interests of the Middle and New England communities. If the President fails to veto the bill, his course will be taken in full knowledge of this fact.

Municipal elections throughout New York show increased gains for Republicans, several Democratic strongholds electing Republican officers for the first time in history.

And all along the line, from one end of the country to the other, it appears to be a very poor year for Democrats.

A CENSUS monograph just made public shows that in the period from 1860 to 1890 the capital invested in American textile industries increased from $150,000,000 to $730,973,661. In spite of great strides in the use of labor saving machinery and a great cheapening in the price of textile products this class of manufactures gave employment in 1890 to over 500,000 persons and paid out in wages nearly four and one-half times as much as it did in 1860. Yet because this great source of National prosperity is mainly located in the North, the Bourbon assassins of American industry single it out for a vindictive attack.

Yes, a few factories start up to fill immediate small orders, but many more are shutting down or running on short time and shortened wages:

AMSTERDAM, March 23d.—The Amsterdam Knitting Company at Rockton has resumed operations at a reduced schedule of wages.

CAMDEN, March 23d.—D. LEONARD MOORE & CO., builders and contractors, have temporarily suspended. The amount of liabilities is supposed to be between $60,000 and $60,000.

PATCHOGUE, L. I., March 23d.—The entire plant of the American Lace Manufacturing Company will be sold at receiver's sale on April 9th. The mill made money until the general business depression came on. Nearly 300 hands have been employed a greater portion of the globe.

THE shortage in JOHN T. MCKANE'S accounts with the town of Gravesend is now apparently nearly $700,000. Democratic bosses come high in New York.

Republicans elected..... 704
Democrats elected..... 341
Republican gain over last year..... 98

Well, what do you think of it, Brother MARSH?

There's no more reason in hoisting the green flag on the 17th of March than there would be in hoisting the orange flag on the 12th of July. Neither of these flags represent a Nation, nor are they recognized by foreign powers. Truckling officeholders hoist the green flag to capture the Irish vote. They ought to lose the American vote in consequence.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND does not take kindly to suggestions that he should sign the Seigniorage Bill, nor is he pleased when informed that he should veto it. The fact is that CLEVELAND thinks he is fully competent to decide what he should do without receiving advice when it is not called for. Of course, who ever knew a wild bull to accept kind words. Let the old snoozie go on and bust up the rest of the "chany." There isn't much left anyhow.

VINCENZO DE VETI, an Italian banker of New York, and VELASCO FERRINI, his clerk, have been arrested for selling naturalization papers to newly arrived Italians at from $10 to $15 apiece. These men were taken to the polls and voted for the Democratic ticket in droves. When they left the country their papers were bought back at a discount and resold to newer arrivals. Thus it is that America is under the absolute rule of the very worst of our foreign element.

RECALL HIM!
St. Louis Globe Democrat.—Minister Willis has written more dispatches and rendered less service than any other man who is drawing a salary as diplomatic functionary.

FOR KEEPS.
Wheeling Intelligencer.—If President Doe doesn't send Minister Willis home, there is no such thing in Hawaii as poetic justice. Mr. Willis has earned his pension and should have them as a souvenir of the incident.

COME ALONG.
Chicago Inter Ocean.—John Ruskin once told a distinguished American: "You have no mind, and I do not care to visit your country." Ruskin can count right along. We can show him more "ruins" in the manufacturing cities of the land than can be found in any other quarter of the globe.

EXPERT TESTIMONY.
Chicago Times, (Dem.)—Henry Watterson says that President Cleveland "is good company when you know him well, plays a fair game of poker, takes his whisky temperately, and all that." From which it would appear that Mr. Cleveland is a good drummer to make a bad President.

THE NEW BRIDGE OVER THE KENTUCKY RIVER at Frankfort has been formally accepted by the city from the contractors.

WEEKLY PUBLIC LEDGER.

The First Number Will Appear Saturday, April 7th.

In response to a very general demand, THE LEDGER will begin the publication of a weekly edition, the first number of which will appear Saturday, April 7th.

The weekly will take the old name, MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN.

It will comprise 8 pages, 40 columns in all, and the subscription price will be $1 a year—strictly in advance.

No paper will be sent longer than the time paid for.

This will not interfere with the publication of THE DAILY LEDGER.

Subscriptions for the Weekly may be sent in now, to begin April 7th.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., March 6th, 1895.

To the Stockmen Co., Nashville, Tenn.—Gentlemen: It gives me exceeding pleasure to speak of your Antiseptic, as I consider it the best I have ever used. My old servant Albert, who is 72 years old, was suffering from a severe heart trouble and droopy. I called in my favorite physician and gave him every salve, ointment, and medicine he could prescribe, but he could not help him. At this point I decided to give him Jack's Antiseptic, as it seemed to do good to others. My old servant got well again in a few days. He is now in full health and strength again.

Usually the coal miners are paid ten cents more per ton than the bituminous men, and at this rating the block miners will be reduced to sixty-six cents, which is not as large a cut as has been predicted.

NEW YORK, March 24th.—(Special)—The Sheriff has taken charge of the place of business of the Sterling Emery Wheel Company at No. 174 Fulton street on attachment for $15,000. It is said the company has a large stock on hand, which it has been unable to dispose of, manufacturing establishments on which it depended having been idle so long. The liabilities are reported to be about $30,000 and the nominal assets $75,000.

To be continued throughout the entire existence of this Democratic British-Free-trade Administration.

SO FILTHY

That Judge Bradley Wanted Them Suppressed.

Several of the Depositions in the Pollard-Breckinridge Case

Will Only Be Admitted in Part—The Decision is a Slight Victory for Miss Pollard's Attorneys—They Are Attempting to Prove an Alibi for Breckinridge.

WASHINGTOM. March 27.—Judge Bradley in the Pollard-Breckinridge case Monday morning gave his decision ruling out certain depositions, and saying others ought to have been ruled out because they were "so filthy." It appears he will press to admit the objectionable depositions.

The Pollard-Breckinridge trial began Monday morning interest centered in the decision of Judge Bradley with reference to the admission of certain depositions taken by Mr. H. M. Kennerly, in behalf of Col. Breckinridge, to whom the objection was made by Miss Pollard's attorney. Argument on the legal points raised against these depositions was heard by Judge Bradley Saturday, and as he did not render his decision at that time, many were present to hear the decision. Judge Bradley was somewhat late. Col. Breckinridge, Maj. Butterworth, Mr. Stoll and Mr. McKeyness, of the defense, and Dasha Breckinridge, were early comers, and when Judge Williams came in, Mrs. Pollard, the plaintiff, Miss Pollard was not in court.

When the court had been called to order Judge Bradley rendered his decision.

He took up the specific objections made to parts of testimony contained in the depositions. The first of the objectionable depositions was that of a man named Brand, who refused to answer whether he and Miss Pollard had maintained improper relations; a very odd refusal, so Judge Bradley said, in view of the fact that he was asked if that highly married man, he frequented houses of prostitution. What objection the deponent could have to answering the question the judge could not see.

A deposition of one Kaufman was admitted, but Judge Bradley said it could have suppressed the depositions of Brand, Coffin and one Hawkins on the ground that they were too filthy to be read he would have done so, but unfortunately he could not overlook the legal rights.

The deposition of John O'Toole was overruled, because it was based on hearsay, and so also were those of Drs. Green and Lewis.

The depositions of Mrs. Miller and W. W. Rose were not overruled, but were admitted, subject to objections to specific questions when they were read.

The deposition of Mrs. Pollard, who contended that the depositions had been taken de bene esse, or subject to consideration by the court, as to their admissibility.

The depositions which were read at the morning session of court in the Pollard-Breckinridge case were largely confined to the point of an alibi, and were made to show that at various dates when Miss Pollard testified he was in her company at houses of questionable character, he was really at another point attending to legal matters.

SENATOR COLQUITT DEAD.

The End Came Peacefully in His Washington Home.

WASHINGTON. March 27.—United States Senator Alfred Holt Colquitt, of Georgia, died at his residence in this city Monday. Around the bedside when he passed away were Senator Gordon and his daughter, Mrs. Jones; Senator Colquitt's wife, Mrs. Colquitt; his son, Mr. Bryan; his son, Mr. Colquitt, three unmarried daughters and his daughter, Mrs. Marshall, of Chicago.

As the end approached the senator's breathing became very heavy, but he relapsed into unconsciousness and suffered no pain.

Alfred Holt Colquitt, of Atlanta, was born in Walton county, Ga., April 20, 1854; graduated at Princeton (N. J.) College in 1875; studied law at Atlanta, Ga., and was admitted to the bar in 1880; served as a staff officer, with the rank of major, during the Mexican war; was elected and served as a member of the state legislature; was a member of the Georgia legislature in 1889; was a presidential elector for the state in 1892; was a member of the state legislature in 1890; was a member of the secession convention of the state of Georgia; entered politics with the support of the Populist party; was subsequently elected colonel of the Sixth Georgia infantry; served as a brigadier general in the Georgia national guard; was elected general; was elected governor of the state of Georgia in 1892 for four years and was re-elected under a new constitution for two years; was elected to the United States senate as a democrat for the full term commencing March 4, 1895, and served until April, 1896. His term of service expires March 3, 1898.

Died White Fraying.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 27.—Wm. Dwyer, aged 99, died suddenly in St. John's cathedral. He remained kneeling so long that the attention of those in the same pew was attracted and they rushed to his aid. He did not move, and it was discovered that he was dead. The body was quietly carried out, and the worshipers supposed he had fainted.

New Sailing Record.

SAN FRANCISCO. March 27.—The barkentine Troc Brie has returned from Tahiti, gaily decorated because of her remarkable run from this city to the islands in January. The distance is 4,200 nautical miles, and the journey occupied sixteen days, twelve hours, and eight minutes, to be made by a sailing vessel on the Pacific.

W. C. of the Year.

SPRINGFIELD, W. Va., March 27.—In the municipal election held at this place the female ticket was elected by majorities over the "dry" ticket ranging from 16 to 30 votes. The result is that the town has gone "wet" for 50 years.

CROOKEDNESS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 27.—The jury-drawing process of the state show-inspector W. Z. McDonald took an other sensational turn when the trial of City Clerk John D. Doane, accused of furnishing a select list of names for the struck jury, came up for hearing before Judge Bradley.

It was discovered that no summons had been served on Joe Miller, the chief witness against Doane. Sheriff Ross was utterly unable to explain why this man had not also been served. All the heat was then directed against the summons and the man was absent.

The general suspicion is that some one shielding the parties is conviving to have witnesses disappear.

Sheriff Ross made things warm on returning to his office, after a lecture by the court, and there was a quick scurrying of deputies out over the city in search of Miller.

WARRANT FOR COXEY.

A Prisoner Has a Claim of $600 Against Him for Malfeasance.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 27.—A forged attachment was issued Monday by H. M. Everson of this city, against Gen. J. S. Coxey, commander of the Commonwealth. The claim is for $600 for mill supplies. In view of the fact that Mr. Coxey has seemingly abandoned his cause, involving his energies and money to the benefit of the objects Mr. Everson felt it necessary to protect himself.

Sheriff Richards will send deputies to the border of the county to meet Gen. Coxey and escort him to the sheriff's office, where he will be required to give bail in the sum of $1,500 or remain here.

The company organized in the 18th ward of this city to meet Coxey has been disbanded, the reports received having discouraged the members.

NO SERIOUS DEFECTS.

The Carnegie Co. Admits Its Contention With the Government.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Secretary Herbert Monday sent to the house an answer to the Cummings resolution calling for a statement of the details of the recent raid and violation by Carnegie Co. and Co. of the contracts with the United States for the manufacture of armor plate for the navy.

The secretary's answer is long. In substance, it is stated that defects were discovered in some of the light armor plate, but not serious, and the company has adjusted the matter by a rebate of $140,000 to the government.

Wild Beasts Driven Out.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 26.—The high water which has prevailed throughout the region of the last month has driven hundreds of deer, mountain sheep and other game from their swamps to the uplands, and losses of cattle and hogs of farmers to an alarming extent have been the consequences in the Saline bottoms, south of here. The animals are now scattered over a wide area, and efforts have been made on lives of people living in the vicinity. Protective organizations now exist in the bottoms, and mighty raids are necessary in order to protect the interests of the inhabitants.

Penion Reduction Notices.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A large daily average of 1,000 men, the committee appointed by the Coxey club, of this city, have labored assiduously for some days past in securing rations and accommodations for the commonwealth army, which is scheduled to encamp here on the night of the 29th. As a result, the army has been provided with provisions collected in this city and vicinity. They also claim to have received letters demanding a good situation under the city government, and also personal appeals from the same person. The last letters were accompanied by threats that the writer would make excuse if he did not receive the situation demanded. These letters usually conveyed the intimation that the recipient would soon be "roasting in hell." Mr. Washburn believes that Prendergast ought to be hanged.

ALMOST A DISASTER.

Many Men and Boys Carried Out to Sea on Drifting Ice.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 27.—A serious disaster threatened this city as the ice, which had been held by the men and boys who had been seal hunting on the ice near shore, were carried out to sea by the drifting ice.

Two of the boys were frozen to death, and the entire party were buried in the snow.

Coxey's Army Continues on Its Freezing Way.

The Prospects Look Gloomy, and Their Leader is Going.

On a Mysterious Visit to Chicago—Coxey, Browne and Other Leaders Slept Completely at a Hotel—Three Women in Male Attire with the Army.

COLONIAL, O., March 27.—A sensation is created in Columbus Monday morning by the arrival of Gen. John Beatty, well known in political and moneyed circles, and residing at Lexington avenue, received a telegram from the coroner of Ross county Monday night stating that Hobart Beatty, the general's son, had killed himself through the head with a revolver.

Hobart Beatty, a student at State university, left the city Friday for Chillicothe, though without imparting to his friends the locality for which he was bound. The telegram which he received was from a Chillicothe store, walked a few miles up a small stream called Salt River creek, and near the hamlet of Vigo, shot himself through the head.

Beatty Beatty was of the impressionable age of 20. For some time he had been enamored of Miss Stanton, and it is believed that this infatuation was the cause of his suicide. A few days ago the girl left this city for Cincinnati in the company of a commercial traveler, and it is rendered probable that he had followed her.

The Beatty family stands high socially and the affair has created considerable excitement. Gen. Beatty, who was much attached to the student son, decided to discuss the terrible affair and is quite heartbroken.

MURDERER PRENDERGAST. Developments That He Had Threatened to Kill Ex-Mayor Washburn.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 27.—The lawyers who are trying to save Assassin Abraham Lincoln from the gallows have been given a reprieve by State's Attorney Kennerly and Judge Chatlain in regard to the trial of the murderer.

While the company organized in the 18th ward of this city to meet Coxey has been disbanded, the reports received having discouraged the members.

Wild Beasts Driven Out. Little Rock, Ark., March 26.—The high water which has prevailed throughout the region of the last month has driven hundreds of deer, mountain sheep and other game from their swamps to the uplands, and losses of cattle and hogs of farmers to an alarming extent have been the consequences in the Saline bottoms, south of here. The animals are now scattered over a wide area, and efforts have been made on lives of people living in the vicinity. Protective organizations now exist in the bottoms, and mighty raids are necessary in order to protect the interests of the inhabitants.

MT. GILEAD.

H. Clay Stone was in Maysville Friday on business.

JAMES MEANS of Tollesboro was in our midst Saturday.

O. G. COOPER of Richland was here on business Friday.

Quite a number of our citizens attended County Court at Flemingsburg yesterday.

Forrest Lee of Rectorville was visiting friends in this vicinity Saturday and Sunday.

J. B. Farrow and wife were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. L. T. Goepke of Mt. Gilead.

Professor Turnipseed has gone to Vancouver to teach school. His many friends are still success.

J. W. Jordan our blacksmith is very busy at the present. He can't take time to attend County Court at Flemingsburg.

Harry B. Wood, who has been quite sick, is able to come down to the Post office and while away the pleasant evenings with friends.

Barton Brownlow came in one day last week from Madison, and he had gone to see his fortune. The doctor said he was sick, "got his hold on him, so he had to return to old Kentucky."

The ever genial merchant of the Travelers Home, Colonel S. R. Walker, passed through town Saturday evening en route to man last Saturday. A big dinner was prepared at the Walker home and quite a number of the relatives were invited in. In a discussion it was agreed that Mr. Walker will live to see many more years of health and prosperity.

The Lower Oakwoods School closed Friday. The teacher, Professor George Turnipseed, and his scholars, assisted by Miss Lillian Williamson and Messrs. Tom Curtis and Charlie White, gave a very interesting entertainment Saturday night. Mr. George White was present. Mrs. Bernard and Orangeburg being well represented. Essays, recitations and dialogues, interspersed with music, was the program. Among the many songs, the popular "Ave Maria" recited "The Moneyless Man," and was loudly applauded, the author has the honor of being Kentucky's Poet Laureate.

Miss E. B. Bowden, of Louisville, which was very interesting, especially to those who were basking in the sunlight of human love. Miss Lillian Williamson recited "The Family" and "The School," which was very realistic. Tom Curtis impersonated "Uncle Jephthah," a colored porter, splendidly in a number of plays.

Colonel P. L. Walker, of Madison, and Forrest Lewis, of the Mt. Gilead String Band, furnished the music. Several pieces were rendered, but one in particular, "Home, Sweet Home," which was the best of all.

A NEW species of sharper has struck Western Kentucky. He secretly feeds whisky-soaked corn to a farmer's hogs and offers his services to cure them of what he calls the "reeling bots." He usually charges $30.
